U. S. WORLD COURT RESERVATIONS UNDER FIRE

CANADIANS, NEW ZEALANDERS IN CRITICISMS

CONTESTED 5TH ARTICLE DEBATED AT GENEVA TODAY

MADE DESPITE GREAT BRITAIN'S WARMEST SUPPORT OF RESERVATIONS

By HENRY WOOD

(United Press Press Correspondent)
Geneva, Sept. 3.—The United States senate's world court reservations have come under fire of the British dominions with Sir Francis Bell of New Zealand and Sir George Foster of Canada as critics of the contested fifth article of the reservations.

The strongest attack came from the American continent rather than Europe as the conference of signatories of the statute of the permanent court of international justice debated the article.

They were made despite England's warmest support of the American reservations.

A possibility in the problem presented by the senate reservations has been advanced by Foreign Minister Osten Unden of Sweden. He declared that he could not see how it was possible to grant the United States the sweeping right requested in the fifth reservation but suggested that the conference itself make reservations, namely acceptance of the United States adherence to the court provided that the reservations did not cause trouble, but that, should trouble develop, the signatories would withdraw acceptance of the United States.

In a caustic address Sir George Foster demanded that the conference examine some actual consequences of accepting the fifth reservation.

He declared that it could not be overlooked that the United States by legislation had enacted a mandatory act declaring that the Hague court should not deliver an advisory opinion without its consent.

This, he said, the league itself would not dream of doing.

Sir George pictured the situation which would arise were the reservation accepted.

He said that it must then constantly be borne in mind that whenever the Hague court was asked to give an advisory opinion its first duty would be to ascertain whether the United States was interested.

This information, he emphasized, was available only from the United States itself. If the reservation provided that the president could determine the matter of interest it would be a different matter, Sir George declared. But he pointed out that the court must get its answer not from some designated source but from "the United States" itself. Hence, he said, it must first be decided what constitutes the United States in this case.

After the court had received its statement from the United States that it was interested, he continued, the court did not have the right to decide whether the claims of the United States were just. He said that as a result of this the reservation would mean the utmost delay, which in certain cases would be fatal. He declared that the whole experience of the league demonstrated the necessity of quick decision and action.

Sir George expressed himself as willing to go to any extent necessary to assure the United States equality, even though nations within the league were carrying burdens and obligations which the United States did not carry. He said he was certain that if the United States found that it had asked more than equality the question could be discussed with the United States in man to man fashion and an adjustment could be reached.

SPAIN DRIFTING FROM LEAGUE

San Sebastian, Spain, Sept. 3.—Foreign Minister Yanguas announced that Uniones De Leon, Spain's representative, has been instructed not to participate in any way in the League of Nations council session at Geneva today.

Yanguas refused to say whether Spain will withdraw from the league.

American Lives, Interests Guarded at Nicaragua

'WET' LAUNDRY WAS MASK FOR HIDDEN STILL

Minneapolis, Sept. 3.—(UP)—Federal agents who raided the Regal Wet Laundry here today discovered that it was a "wet" place, but that the laundry equipment inside was a mask for a hidden 250 gallon still.

The agents confiscated the still, 30 barrels of mash and 100 gallons of moonshine and prepared to issue a warrant for Louis H. Mil-lunchick, said to be the owner of the laundry.

OPPOSE THE BUILDING ROADS IN NAT'L FORESTS

SOCIETIES SEEK PROTECTION AND CONSERVATION OF WILDERNESS

HEARING BEFORE COL. WM. B. GREELEY, CHIEF OF U. S. FORESTRY BUREAU

St. Paul, Sept. 3.—(UP)—Protection and conservation of the wild beauty of the Superior national forest which spreads over two counties in the Arrowhead tip of northeastern Minnesota will be demanded by a score of organizations late today at a hearing before Colonel William B. Greeley, chief of the United States forestry bureau.

Civilization threatens to invade the reserve and bisect it with two highways, inviting the tenderfoot and his automobile to penetrate fastnesses, where only the canoe and few but the experienced woodsman have been before.

The proposal has aroused a storm of protest from the Izaak Walton League, the American Legion, sportsmen and civic organizations and other bodies.

This cry of "sacrilege" was carried directly to Secretary of Agriculture William M. Jardine during his recent visit to Minnesota. The forestry bureau is a part of the department of agriculture. Secretary Jardine listened and the hearing today is the result.

Not only is a menace to Minnesota's last wilderness but also to safeguard the territory against forest fires which the careless tenderfoot might start, the building of the two highways will be opposed.

OHIO'S FIRST TRIPLE EXECUTION IN ELECTRIC CHAIR

JOHN BRYANT, JOHN HEDRICKS AND RICHARD RHOADES PAY PRICE

TRIO HAD CONSPIRED TO SLAY MAN, $30 CONSIDERATION INVOLVED

Columbus, O., Sept. 3.—(UP)—Three men, one of whom paid the other two $30 for a murder, went to their deaths in the electric chair here last night to pay Ohio's price for a human life.

The men were John Bryant, Richard Rhoades and John Hedricks. The state's first triple execution was completed in 31 minutes. Bryant went first at 8:16 P. M. Rhoades paid next. Hedricks was pronounced dead at 8:47 P. M.

The men met death calmly. They nodded to acquaintances among the witnesses as one by one they marched into the death chamber and the hood adjusted.

"Praise God," mumbled Bryant, who was accused of paying the other two for the death of James McCumber last March 15. Rhoades' last words were a courteous "Yes, sir," to his executioner. Hedricks singled out Sheriff Harry Rice among the witnesses to assure him: "I told the truth."

A huge crowd gathered at the prison yard early in evening, although nothing of the proceedings could be seen from there. The march of qualified witnesses to the death house was halted while officials cleared a path.

There was no demonstration or evidence of mob emotion. Rhoades' brother, one of the throng, wailed and was taken away by friends.

Minnesota State Fair and N. W. Dairy Show Will Open at Hamline Saturday

EXPOSITION IS GREATEST OF ITS KIND

THOUSANDS OF EXHIBITS, INCLUDING DISPLAYS FROM 40 COUNTIES

SOLID HOURS OF ENTERTAINMENT AVAILABLE FOR THE PUBLIC

St. Paul, Sept. 3.—(UP)—The 1926 Minnesota State Fair and Northwest Dairy Exposition will open at the Hamline fair grounds at 7 A. M. Saturday.

When the big gates swing ajar, they will give entrance to the greatest exposition of its kind that the northwest has ever seen. Thousands upon thousands of exhibits including displays from 40 counties, blue ribbon winners in every department of agriculture, and solid hours of entertainment will be available to the public.

There was feverish activity inside the fences that enclose the fair grounds as exhibitors labored today at getting their displays in order. Some were late, for one reason or another, and made up lost time in an effort to be ready for the opening.

For the 40th time G. Andrist of West Concord, Minn., has blue ribbon honors for the best entry of Swiss cheese. He has been an exhibitor for 50 years. The dairy department was completed Thursday.

Other awards follow:

Creamery butter, W. F. Wargowsky, Boyden, Ia., 95 3-4 points. Dairy butter, Mrs. William Barthorpe, Clear Lake, S. D., 92 points. American cheese, A. McGowan, Pine Island, Minn., 95 points.

The estimated value of the displays is $20,000,000. They include 3,500 head of cattle, sheep and horses, worth almost $3,000,000; large exhibits of swine and poultry, mammoth entries of products of the soil and the largest machinery show in the world. The implements alone are valued at $5,000,000. The vastness of the exposition is indicated by the fact that it will be housed in 200 buildings covering 300 acres.

AIRPLANE FIRM TO OPERATE BETWEEN DETROIT, ST. PAUL

Lansing, Mich., Sept. 3.—(UP)—Northwest Airways Inc., was granted a corporate charter by the secretary of state today and authorized to operate airplanes between Detroit and St. Paul.

The corporation is organized as a "private utility" doubt as to the legal status of the corporation has been expressed by officials of the state public utilities commission and the state securities commission.

The corporation wants to sell $300,000 worth of stock to individuals who have already subscribed and it had not been decided which of the two commissions has jurisdiction.

State Sues Duluth Man for Expense Fighting Forest Fires

Duluth, Sept. 3.—(UP)—The state of Minnesota has started suit against City Commissioner P. G. Phillips of Duluth, for $2,052.30 which it says he owes it for expenses incurred in fighting forest fires which broke out on the land near French River, May 14 and 15. ### AMERICAN LABOR TO AID SUFFERING BRITISH STRIKERS

Washington, Sept. 3.—(UP)—Members of labor organizations all over America are being asked by the American Federation of Labor today "to give to the limit of their ability" to provide food and clothing for the suffering families of striking British miners.

Despite reports of the British government that no suffering is noticeable, the appeal issued today by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, declares "the strike of the miners in Great Britain has reached the point where suffering among the miners' families is intense."

London, Sept. 3.—(UP)—Spokesmen for the British coal mine owners announced today that the Mine Owners' association would maintain its opposition to a national agreement fixing hours of labor and wages for miners. The statement was interpreted as deferring peace in the mining industry unless the owners could be persuaded to alter their position since the miners were understood to be determined to obtain a national agreement.

CATHOLICS MAY PRESENT MAN FOR PRESIDENCY

NEW COURSE BELIEVED ADOPTED TO MEET MEXICAN SITUATION

EPISCOPATE IS OBVIOUSLY PREPARING FOR A LONG STRUGGLE

Mexico City, Sept. 3.—(UP)—Presentation of a church candidate for the presidency in the elections scheduled for two years hence appeared today to be the most probable course of the Catholic church in seeking reform of the religious law.

It is becoming more and more obvious that the Episcopate is preparing for an extremely long struggle with the state to regain what the church considers to be its constitutional rights. The struggle probably will involve municipal, state and federal politics before it is ended.

Replying to President Calles' statement before congress when that body convened, the Episcopate said that the government's actions had been unconstitutional and "smelled of bolshevism."

HIRED SPECIAL TRAIN TO REACH INJURED SONS

Two Harbors, Minn., Sept. 3.—(UP)—Believing that their sons were seriously hurt in an automobile accident near here A. W. Strong and G. F. Gamble of Minneapolis chartered a Soo Line special train yesterday and made the trip here in 4 hours and 33 minutes, breaking all previous records. A fireman and a brakeman of the freight train were injured.

SQUABBLE OVER NAMING MAN TO FOLLOW RHINOW

NEW FEDERAL PROHIBITION ADMINISTRATOR FOR THE NORTHWEST

BRIG.-GEN. RHINOW'S TERM EXPIRES ON OCTOBER FIRST

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 3.—(UP)—A squabble over appointment of a federal prohibition administrator for the northwest at the expiration of the term of Brigadier General Walter F. Rhinow on October 1 appeared likely today.

However, D. L. McBride, superintendent of the Minnesota Anti-Saloon League, announced after a conference with General Rhinow that the latter was willing to accept reappointment and that the league was marshalling its forces to prevent any attempt by followers of United States Senator Thomas D. Schall to have F. B. Quale of Willmar, former state prohibition director, named for the place.

Rhinow did not confirm reports which have been circulated in political circles to the effect that he has broken with Senator Schall because of a difference of opinion on the administrator's action in dismissing certain enforcement agents.

"General Rhinow is fearless and energetic and above all absolutely on the square," McBride said in a formal statement after his conference. "The Minnesota Anti-Saloon League is behind him and demands his reappointment."

General Rhinow and Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Lincoln C. Andrews will confer at Washington on September 20 regarding prohibition enforcement activities in the northwest. Out of this meeting is expected to develop the answer to the question of whether Rhinow will be named again. Action favorable to him will mean he will have to have his leave of absence from the Minnesota national guard extended, but no difficulty is anticipated on this score.

MOVE TO HAVE STATE PARK AT BIRCH COULEE

Morton, Minn., Sept. 3.—(UP)—A movement to establish a state park on the spot where United States troops were ambushed by Sioux Indians in the battle of Birch Coulee 64 years ago was started Thursday at the exercises commemorating the event.

State Senator Herman Schmechtel of Fairfax, suggested the erection of a state park, in accordance with the sentiment favoring preservation of the state's historical spots and declared he would introduce a measure for that purpose before the next session of the legislature. He predicted that the legislature would approve the project.

Governor Theodore Christianson, who was the principal speaker heard Schmechtel's plea, reviewed the Olivia and Redwood Falls companies of the Minnesota national guard and was applauded during his address by 5,000 persons who braved rain to attend.

SEMI RIGID ARMY DIRIGIBLE WEATHERS STORMS

Scott Field, Belleville, Ill., Sept. 3.—(UP)—Successfully weathering heavy storms over most of the route the TC-5, semi rigid army dirigible arrived at the army hangers here at 6 a. m. today from Langley Field, Norfolk, Va.

Two stops were made on the cross country flight, one at Dayton, O., for fueling and another forced landing near Washington court house, O. From Dayton, O., west, the blimp was in storm territory during most of the trip. At no time, however, was the ship in danger, pilots said upon arrival.

RAINFALL IN NORTHWEST MAKES UP FOR LOST TIME

BRIEF BUT FIERCE DOWNPOUR STRUCK MINNESOTA AND DAKOTAS

ADDITIONAL SHOWERS PROMISED BY WEATHER BUREAU TODAY

St. Paul, Sept. 3.—(UP)—The rainfall which the northwest did not get in the spring is making up for lost time. A brief but fierce downpour struck Minnesota and North and South Dakota late Thursday and additional showers were promised by the government weather bureau forecast for today.

One man was killed in St. Paul during Thursday's rain. He was Frank Johnson, 33, a car repairer, who was electrocuted at the height of the storm when he fell while on top of a street car and came in contact with a trolley pole.

An electrical storm in the northwestern part of the state, heavy rains in the Dakotas and an electrical and rain storm in and around the Twin Cities was the weather's contribution. In St. Paul more than one-half inch of rain fell in 15 minutes, flooding basements and sewers and causing some interference with traffic.

Telegraph and telephone poles were reported to have been torn down around Thief River Falls, during a severe electrical storm in that part of the state, but little other damage was done.

"Showers or thunder storms today; Saturday cloudy and unsettled with probable showers," was the official weather forecast.

U. S. CRUISER ARRIVES AT BLUEFIELDS TODAY

THE NICARAGUAN GOVERNMENT TROOPS AND REVOLUTIONISTS IN BATTLE ARRAY

CITY DECLARED NEUTRAL ZONE, NOW OCCUPIED BY MARINES AND BLUEJACKETS

Washington, Sept. 3.—(UP)—With the arrival this morning of the U. S. S. Rochester at Bluefields, Nicaragua, American interests will be doubly guarded when government troops and revolutionists battle for control of El Bluff across the harbor. The city of Bluefields was declared a neutral zone several days ago by the U. S. S. Galveston, and is now occupied by marines and bluejackets. The United States, however, is taking no part in the dispute, but is protecting interests of American citizens.

An additional 500 marines and bluejackets will be held in readiness by the Rochester, should the fighting spread into the neutral zone, the navy department said this morning. Skirmishing is reported to have been started already in the vicinity of El Bluff.

Several hundred Americans are said to live in and near Bluefields and have large property holdings. No deaths have been reported in that vicinity but two Americans are believed to have been killed at Branganman's Bluff, 120 miles up the coast.

After two weeks of fighting revolutionists are said to be in control of the northeastern coast. Their immediate objective is El Bluff, the strategic point which overlooks the harbor of Bluefields.

Government troops are said to be in possession of the stronghold, which was bombarded last week.

Quiet prevails on the west coast, according to official reports, after the engagement at Coseguinea, in which more than a hundred were killed and an equal number injured.

The U. S. S. Tulsa which has been stationed on the west coast, is conveying the wounded to relief stations at Corinto.

According to one official, Owen has been accused of attempting to make a scheduled stop at Pine Siding, to await the other car. ### SQUABBLE OVER NAMING MAN TO FOLLOW RHINOW

NEW FEDERAL PROHIBITION ADMINISTRATOR FOR THE NORTHWEST

BRIG.-GEN. RHINOW'S TERM EXPIRES ON OCTOBER FIRST

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 3.—(UP)—A squabble over appointment of a federal prohibition administrator for the northwest at the expiration of the term of Brigadier General Walter F. Rhinow on October 1 appeared likely today.

However, D. L. McBride, superintendent of the Minnesota Anti-Saloon League, announced after a conference with General Rhinow that the latter was willing to accept reappointment and that the league was marshalling its forces to prevent any attempt by followers of United States Senator Thomas D. Schall to have F. B. Quayle of Willmar, former state prohibition director, named for the place.

Rhinow did not confirm reports which have been circulated in political circles to the effect that he has broken with Senator Schall because of a difference of opinion on the administrator's action in dismissing certain enforcement agents. "General Rhinow is fearless and energetic and above all absolutely on the square," McBride said in a formal statement after his conference. "The Minnesota Anti-Saloon League is behind him and demands his reappointment."

General Rhinow and Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Lincoln C. Andrews will confer at Washington on September 20 regarding prohibition enforcement activities in the northwest. Out of this meeting is expected to develop the answer to the question of whether Rhinow will be named again. Action favorable to him will mean he will have to have his leave of absence from the Minnesota national guard extended, but no difficulty is anticipated on this score.

MOVE TO HAVE STATE PARK AT BIRCH COULEE

Morton, Minn., Sept. 3.—(UP)—A movement to establish a state park on the spot where United States troops were ambushed by Sioux Indians in the battle of Birch Coulee 64 years ago was started Thursday at the exercises commemorating the event.

State Senator Herman Schmechtel of Fairfax, suggested the erection of a state park, in accordance with the sentiment favoring preservation of the state's historical spots and declared he would introduce a measure for that purpose before the next session of the legislature. He predicted that the legislature would approve the project.

Governor Theodore Christianson, who was the principal speaker heard Schmechtel's plea, reviewed the Olivia and Redwood Falls companies of the Minnesota national guard and was applauded during his address by 5,000 persons who braved rain to attend.

RAINFALL IN NORTHWEST MAKES UP FOR LOST TIME

BRIEF BUT FIERCE DOWNPOUR STRUCK MINNESOTA AND DAKOTAS

ADDITIONAL SHOWERS PROMISED BY WEATHER BUREAU TODAY

St. Paul, Sept. 3.—(UP)—The rainfall which the northwest did not get in the spring is making up for lost time. A brief but fierce downpour struck Minnesota and North and South Dakota late Thursday and additional showers were promised by the government weather bureau forecast for today.

One man was killed in St. Paul during Thursday's rain. He was Frank Johnson, 33, a car repairer, who was electrocuted at the height of the storm when he fell while on top of a street car and came in contact with a trolley pole.

An electrical storm in the northwestern part of the state, heavy rains in the Dakotas and an electrical and rain storm in and around the Twin Cities was the weather's contribution. In St. Paul more than one-half inch of rain fell in 15 minutes, flooding basements and sewers and causing some interference with traffic.

Telegraph and telephone poles were reported to have been torn down around Thief River Falls, during a severe electrical storm in that part of the state, but little other damage was done.

"Showers or thunder storms today; Saturday cloudy and unsettled with probable showers," was the official weather forecast.

U. S. CRUISER ARRIVES AT BLUEFIELDS TODAY

THE NICARAGUAN GOVERNMENT TROOPS AND REVOLUTIONISTS IN BATTLE ARRAY

CITY DECLARED NEUTRAL ZONE, NOW OCCUPIED BY MARINES AND BLUEJACKETS

Washington, Sept. 3.—(UP)—With the arrival this morning of the U. S. S. Rochester at Bluefields, Nicaragua, American interests will be doubly guarded when government troops and revolutionists battle for control of El Bluff across the harbor. The city of Bluefields was declared a neutral zone several days ago by the U. S. S. Galveston, and is now occupied by marines and bluejackets. The United States, however, is taking no part in the dispute, but is protecting interests of American citizens.

An additional 500 marines and bluejackets will be held in readiness by the Rochester, should the fighting spread into the neutral zone, the navy department said this morning. Skirmishing is reported to have been started already in the vicinity of El Bluff.

Several hundred Americans are said to live in and near Bluefields and have large property holdings. No deaths have been reported in that vicinity but two Americans are believed to have been killed at Brangman's Bluff, 120 miles up the coast.

After two weeks of fighting revolutionists are said to be in control of the northeastern coast. Their immediate objective is El Bluff, the strategic point which overlooks the harbor of Bluefields.

Government troops are said to be in possession of the stronghold, which was bombarded last week.

Quiet prevails on the west coast, according to official reports, after the engagement at Coseguina, in which more than a hundred were killed and an equal number injured.

The U. S. S. Tulsa which has been stationed on the west coast, is conveying the wounded to relief stations at Corinto.

TWO INTERURBAN CARS COLLIDE; 8 PEOPLE KILLED

Monroe, Mich., Sept. 3.—(UP)—In an effort to fix responsibility for the head on collision of two interurban cars here yesterday afternoon, resulting in the death of eight persons and injury to 25 others, officials of the road and county today planned to closely question William Owen, veteran motorman of the south bound car.

The two cars, of the Detroit, Monroe & Toledo Shore Line, came together on a 2,000 foot curve while traveling at approximately 40 miles an hour, according to witnesses. According to one official, Owen has been accused of attempting to make up lost time and failure to make a scheduled stop at Pine Siding, to await the other car. He jumped and escaped with minor injuries, going to his home at Toledo.

CAFE OWNER OF PIPESTONE IS CHARGED WITH ARSON

He was bound over under $2,500 bond after being arraigned on a charge of having attempted to burn the restaurant. An employe testified that he found a plumber's cable in the basement of the cafe, so placed that it would have started a fire had it not been removed.

Indian Police Stern
in Maintaining Order

The buffalo-hunting Indian tribes of the plains, even in early times, were by no means lacking in discipline, and all, or nearly all, of them had bodies of men whose duty it was to govern the camp, especially when on the march, or the buffalo hunt, and to maintain order. These "police" were chosen in different ways, according to tribe and custom. Among some tribes various warrior societies were chosen alternately to the rule for a space of time. Among others, individuals, because of their personal valor, were selected.

One of the most interesting functions of these warrior-police was that of regulating the buffalo hunt. By many tribes the method of surrounding the herd and charging at a given signal was one of the favorite methods of taking buffalo. It was necessary that all should dash to the attack at once, for should any individual break away and go it alone, he might stampede the herd, and the entire band would be deprived of food and perhaps find itself in a very serious predicament. Therefore, when the scouts had located the herd, the hunters advanced and attacked it all at once on a given signal. If any man broke away he was sought out after the slaughter was over by the police, who called him out of his lodge and gave him a thorough drubbing, called a "soldier killing." His teepee was torn down and cut to pieces, his dogs and horses often shot, and his clothing destroyed. If he presumed to make any resistance he was likely to be killed. Among some of the tribes, if he took it all in good part, and acknowledged his fault, the police went the rounds of the camp some four days later and levied contributions of the tribesmen, taking here a tent, there a horse, etc., until they had enough to more than restore the property of the culprit. These things were then turned over to the man with a warning, for it was considered disgrace enough to be publicly thrashed. "Soldier killings" were also administered for refusing to camp in the place assigned by the chiefs, and for other breaches of law or accepted custom.—Alanson Skinner in Adventure Magazine.

OPPOSED BY WEATHER AND TIME ON PAVING

Date for Completion of Paving of Highway No. 27 is Indefinite

BEHIND SCHEDULE NOW

No Hope of Completion Before Nov. 1, it is Learned Today

Ostrand and Hallet, contractors on the paving project of Highway No. 27 in its completion of a straight line of paving from the cities to Brainerd on the road from Belle Prairie to this city, are fighting against tow forces in their attempt to complete the paving job this year, that of time and weather conditions, and doubt is expressed as to the near date for the completion.

The contractors are now said to be 15 days behind schedule time. In the event of good weather the remainder of this month and October, it is possible that the paving will be complete by Nov. 1. Should weather conditions oppose progress, it might necessitate a stay in construction till next spring. This would bring about a delay that would not be beneficial to Brainerd as it was hoped that the road would be complete by Oct. 15 for the short remaining part of the tourist season and especially the opening of the tourist season next year.

The vagueness of the time for completion has somewhat put a damper on the arrangement of a program for the celebration of completion. City boards, lodges, the Chamber of Commerce and others had planned a big celebration for the event. These organizations are awaiting anxiously definite word as to the date of completion. They urge every possible means in completion of the road this year.

E. J. Miller, bridge construction engineer for the State Highway Department and Mr. Seales, division engineer at St. Cloud were in the city yesterday after looking over the work.

OLD Judson Carteret, of the law firm of Carteret and Simpson, was told by his doctors that, owing to certain physical afflictions which were his, he could not look forward to many years of money getting. Thereupon Judson opened the long-closed door of the lumber room of his past and began to take account of stock.

There was his connection with Marcellus Livermore. Perhaps he had injured Marcellus—but then, if he hadn't he never would have been worth the large fortune he had today. Yes, the money he had "done" Marcellus out of was the foundation of his present fortune.

Marcellus had died in poverty, but the last Judson knew there was a daughter alive and unmarried out in the Midwest who was making her own living. Before this Judson's conscience had been a most docile and complaisant part of his mentality, never giving him the least trouble; but now it began to annoy him in the most unaccountable manner. During all his career as a lawyer he had preached the foolishness of people delaying in making their wills—and had never made one himself.

More and more now he felt driven to doing two things which he disliked to do intensely—make his will and make up to Marcellus Livermore's daughter, partially at least, for the injury he had done her father. He was an old bachelor without kith or kin except a nephew, Frank Carteret, the son of a long-dead younger brother, the said Frank being at that time a young attorney employed in the office of his firm. Judson pondered long and deeply over the situation and at last said to himself: "Hang it all! I'll do it. Frank will have enough anyway"—and proceeded to execute his last will and testament. Not long after this he was gathered to his fathers and his partner, Mr. Simpson, opened and read the document.

It was found that Judson had left his entire fortune to "My nephew, Francis K. Carteret, provided the said Francis K. Carteret marry within one year after my demise, Emily, daughter of the late Marcellus Livermore. Should he, the said Francis, refuse to marry as aforesaid, or should the said Emily be already married"—then the fortune was to be divided equally between the two.

Frank heard the reading of the will with an air of indifference. "Of course," he said, "I shall not marry Miss Emily Livermore."

"Better wait until you see her before you decide," replied Mr. Simpson; "in any event we must advise for the lady. Miss Leland, please take this on the typewriter and send it to one New York and one Chicago paper. It's an advertisement. Hem! If Miss Emily Livermore, daughter of the late Marcellus Livermore, will apply at or communicate with this office she will hear of something to her advantage." Sign it with our firm name and address."

The young lady thus called into action was a very pretty young lady, apparently approaching thirty years of age. She was Mr. Simpson's trusted secretary. He had read the will before her aloud to Frank, being hardly aware that she was in the room. He even failed to notice her very obvious agitation as she took down his dictation. But Frank noticed it. He had been paying secret court to Bertha Leland for some time; secret because he knew that if he paid her open court his uncle would raise a row and she would lose her job. Bertha had held him off in a most unaccountable manner; although he was sure that she was far from indifference to him. Now, as he witnessed her agitation at typing an "ad" for a woman to come out of the West and be to him what she had refused to be, bringing him at the same time a doubling of his fortune, Frank felt his heart give a joyful leap. She did love him, after all.

He intercepted her that afternoon as she came from the office. "Bertha," said he, "I have asked you twice to marry me; now I ask you a third time. Won't you say 'Yes'?"

She looked at him with a little smile. "Why! aren't you going to marry Miss Livermore?" she asked. "I am not," he replied emphatically. "You think so now," said Bertha. "It is nice of you to be willing to sacrifice all that money to marry poor me; but I am positive that, after all, you will marry Emily Livermore."

"Absurd," replied Frank indignantly. "May I ask why you are so very positive on that point?"

"Because," said Bertha with a little quaver in her voice, "I am Emily Livermore."

When things had quieted down a bit Emily explained: "I took the job in your office under an assumed name because I was afraid that if your uncle knew who I was he would not have me there—and I had to have work. How poor father and Mr. Carteret did hate each other! But that's all over now, for both of them—and Mr. Carteret tried to make restitution at last. I could not say 'yes' to you before, Frank—it would look too much as if I had come there to inveigle the heir of my father's arch enemy."

"You dear girl," gushed Frank, "and you sacrifice a fortune by marrying me."

"Not a bit," laughed Emily, "I get you with the fortune attached."

FASHIONS

By HEDDA HOYT

New York, Sept. 3.—(UP)—Paris high-hats us with high crowned turbans of felt velvet and velvet which look extremely Russian in influence. These new high-crowned shapes are very chic on both young and older women, although they are inclined to give a more sophisticated air than the flapper desires.

For the flapper the Apache tam which combines the high effect with youthful lines is sponsored. One smart New York store is selling these felt tams in such colors as Chanel red, tan, bright rose red, green and black. A deep head-fitting band of felt extends deep over the forehead and this gradually molds upwards into a tam crown. The felt is peccoted at the base where it meets the forehead and does not turn under to meet the hat lining since the Apache model must lie flat to the forehead, without displaying any bulk. Crowns of the various millinery models are soft and may be draped or dented to suit the face of the individual.

A craze for gold and silver metallic effects will be found in the Fall gown collections. Velvet combined with gold or silver lame forms many of the newer gowns of formal type. One gown which is typical of the mode, has a soft crinkly gold lame bodice which molds the figure in self-fitted lines until it reaches below the hips where three circular ruffles of black chiffon velvet forms the tiered skirt. The ruffles are set onto the bodice in irregular fashion thus avoiding the straight-about hip-line. Metal brocade turbans will undoubtedly be popular again for formal occasions due to the metallic influence in frocks.

Among the prominent Fall colors displayed at smart Fifth Avenue shops are Chanel red—deep wine shades, nasturtium shades ranging from golden yellows to burnt orange, bright royal blues, dull greens and black.

Peculiar Plant Diseases

Mosaic diseases which affect plants are so called because the leaves of the plants attacked by them lose their green color in small angular patches, giving the remaining tissue a pattern which resembles a mosaic pavement.

Expensive

FASHIONS

By HEDDA HOYT
New York, Sept. 3.—(UP)—Paris high-hats us with high crowned turbans of felt velour and velvet which look extremely Russian in influence. These new high-crowned shapes are very chic on both young and older women, although they are inclined to give a more sophisticated air than the flapper desires.

For the flapper the Apache tam which combines the high effect with youthful lines is sponsored. One smart New York store is selling these felt tams in such colors as Chanel red, tan, bright rose red, green and black. A deep head-fitting band of felt extends deep over the forehead and this gradually molds upwards into a tam crown. The felt is peccot-edged at the base where it meets the forehead and does not turn under to meet the hat lining since the Apache model must lie flat to the forehead, without displaying any bulk. Crowns of the various millinery models are soft and may be draped or dented to suit the face of the individual.

A craze for gold and silver metallic effects will be found in the Fall gown collections. Velvet combined with gold or silver lame forms many of the newer gowns of formal type. One gown which is typical of the mode, has a soft crinkly gold lame bodice which molds the figure in slim-fitted lines until it reaches below the hips where three circular ruffles of black chiffon velvet forms the tiered skirt. The ruffles are set onto the bodice in irregular fashion thus avoiding the straight-about hip-line. Metal brocade turbans will undoubtedly be popular again for formal occasions due to the metallic influence in frocks.

Among the prominent Fall colors displayed at smart Fifth Avenue shops are Chanel red—deep wine shades, nasturtium shades ranging from golden yellows to burnt orange, bright royal blues, dull greens and black.

Peculiar Plant Diseases

Mosaic diseases which affect plants are so called because the leaves of the plants attacked by them lose their green color in small angular patches, giving the remaining tissue a pattern which resembles a mosaic pavement.

In San Francisco a man paid $300 for an hour's conversation on the telephone with his wife in New York. This works out at the rate of $10 for every minute he listened in.

SOME STIFF RESERVATIONS

SENATOR JIM REED, of Missouri, when interviewed at Breezy Point Lodge on the World Court, let slip a few ideas which shows that the Senate has an uncanny knowledge of things. The World Court is arousing a storm of discussion, and opposition is arising in unexpected places and some senators are even switching around and changing their stand from supporters to antagonists of the World Court idea.

Here is what Senator Reed mentioned about the reservations: "Our best apology for not entering the World Court consists in the added reservations planned to keep us out," said the Senator.

And what are some of these difficult reservations? They are best disclosed in a comprehensive review given by the editor of the Minneapolis Tribune.

Asstute observers have known for a long time that the other nations of the world were not going to tumble over themselves in a general rush to accept the American reservations to America's acceptance of the World Court protocol. It has been apparent from the start that three of the reservations would occasion no trouble, but that the two remaining would be sharply challenged. In fact, there is a very strong possibility—if not even a probability—that they will never be agreed to.

At the meeting of the members of the permanent court of international justice held in Geneva on Wednesday, the expected opposition broke out. The first three reservations were, of course, agreed to, but the fourth and fifth were looked at askance. In the fourth reservation, it should be remembered, the United States declares that it "may at any time withdraw adherence to the protocol, and statute shall not be amended without its consent."

The other nations look upon this much as the individual states of America would look on a proposal to the effect that no constitutional amendment in America be called valid unless the state of New York agreed to it. To put the case differently, New York state would be asking that it be vested with a special, individual veto upon all potential constitutional amendments. The other states inevitably would resent such a request. That is what the foreign nations are doing now as regards the fourth American reservation.

Reservation number five is bound to be another and still more serious trouble-maker. Reservation number five would make the United States master of the World court. This reservation gives the United States not merely the right to forbid the world court to pass an advisory opinion upon any dispute or question affecting the United States, but, at least by clear implication, the right to forbid the World court to pass any advisory opinion upon any dispute or question under the sun. The United States, by this reservation, could forbid the World court to pass an advisory opinion on any question or dispute in which it even "claims" an interest. It could forbid the World court to pass an advisory opinion on a dispute between Turkey and Bulgaria. It could forbid the World court to pass an advisory opinion on a dispute between Italy and Rumania, Poland and Hungary, or France and Spain. It could put the World court permanently out of business by "claiming" an interest in all international disputes and forbidding the World court to pass any advisory opinions at all on any of them.

From the foregoing it may be seen that, without buncombe, America's fourth and fifth reservations are extraordinarily stiff. The other nations will have to want America very badly before they will ever accept them.

TOMATOES THAT ARE TOMATOES

ONE of the most skillful and experienced tomato raisers in Brainerd is Prof. J. A. Wilson. When he raises tomatoes, there is no doubt about the yield, the crop is tomatoes which cannot be duplicated at any county fair in the vicinity. We saw the tomatoes at the Crow Wing county fair at Pequot and there was nothing there to hold a candle to the professor's garden output.

Sometime ago Peter Henderson, noted New York seedsman, developed a new tomato which surpassed the Ponderosa in size, in meaty deliciousness and in general appearance. And what to name it? Henderson offered $50 for a suitable name for the giant tomato. Prof. Wilson came in second best with his selection of the name "Beatsall." The winner's name selected was "Winsall."

Well, Prof. Wilson planted "Winsall" tomato seed, nourished the seedlings, petted and coaxed their growth, built little platforms to hold the heavy output and this morning brought the first returns to the Brainerd Daily Dispatch.

Awe struck and almost petrified to silence, the Dispatch forced as much as an incubator baby, a cool two pounds. Compatriots of this giant tomato weighed a pound and a half and lesser weights.

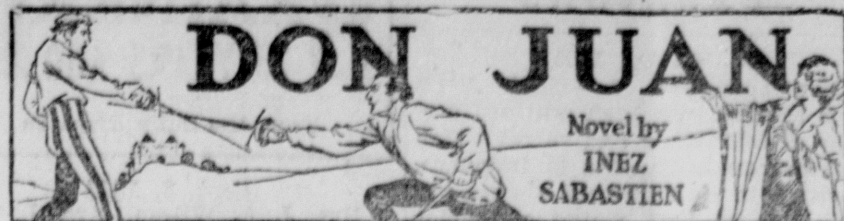

And the Professor had a heart, too. He didn't walk away with his tomato Dempseys and Tunneys, but left the blue ribbon yield in the office where a few grabs soon disposed of the crop. We thank the professor for his contribution, for his success in growing and after sampling the "Winsall" we can truly tell Mr. Wilson and Mr. Henderson that the tomato lives up to its name.

SCHOOL DAYS COMING

THE time when the calendar slips away with lightning-like rapidity is when it rounds into the finish stretch and school is just around the corner. How the hours tick by like minutes. On the start of vacation every hopeful had oceans of time and the question was how to spend it. There was no school bell to summon one to classes, no lessons to prepare, no freight trains to sidestep at the crossing. And now, just a few lengths ahead, is the same school house and probably the same teacher to face you, the one who knows your faults better than your own parents.

These last few days before school entail a lot of work on school board officials and on the school faculty. Preparations must be made, last minute decisions given to get the huge school machinery in gear so that everything will run smoothly when Brainerd's school population takes its seat.

The first few days of the school term will be the hardest, but after that the old grind will reassert itself and Brainerd youth will again take up its burden of conquering the three R's and many other things added to the curriculum of a modern school.

"Don Juan," screen play by Bess Meredyth, starring John Barrymore, is a Warner Bros. picturization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

His father's warning—"Take women's love scornfully—and forget!"—has made Juan the world's greatest lover. His cynicism is checked by Madonna-like Adriana Varanese; loving her, he reforms, but incurs the enmity of infamous Lucretia Borgia, who loves him, and Donati, her kinsman, who covets Adriana. Circumstances shake Juan's faith in Adriana, but later he realizes he was unjust. He kills Donati. Adriana's father is killed. Juan is imprisoned, refusing Lucretia's offer of freedom if he will love her. He escapes, finds Adriana being tortured and fights to rescue her.

CHAPTER XII—Continued

But he fought with the desperation of one who fights, not for his own life, but for that of one he loves. Time and time again, when it seemed that Neri had conquered him, he found new strength with which to go on.

And at last he hurled Neri, vanquished, to the door, stripped him of the long, dark robe, and donned it. Neri's body was hidden behind a corner of the jutting wall, and Juan was completely disguised by the long robe and the hood, which he drew over his head and about his chin as Neri had worn it.

He went straight to Adriana, who, almost fainting, looked down from the rack. There was anguish

Obediently Juan went to the small table on which stood a flask of wine and the small vials with which Neri had been working when Juan overpowered him.

Had the wine been poisoned? Would it be safe to give it to Adriana, or would it mean her death?

Juan poured some into the heavily chased goblet that stood ready for the death-giving potion that Neri had been preparing. Picking up one of the vials, he pretended to pour some of its contents into the goblet, although really he let its contents trickle down his wide sleeves. With the contents of the other vial he did the same.

He approached Adriana, Lucretia watching him like a cat as he crossed the cell. He held the goblet to the girl's lips.

"Drink, little one!" exclaimed Lucretia, and again she laughed. "Drink, that you may say farewell at once to this world, and wander through purgatory searching for your lover!"

Juan held the goblet steady, its rim at Adriana's lips.

"Pretend to drink," he whispered to her, and tilted the goblet so that nearly all its contents, like those of the two vials, ran down his sleeve.

If the wine had been poisoned, even if she swallowed but a little of it, she might die. And yet—there was a chance—in her face, the mark of ghastly suffering, but in her eyes was love of Juan.

Juan held the goblet steady. "Pretend to drink," he whispered to her.

A noise at the door, the sound of voices—Juan whirled, to face Lucretia. Would the disguise deceive her? Never before had his heart beat so madly. Had he been the only one whose safety was concerned the affair would have been a lark; he had always felt that in the game of life he had nothing to lose.

But now, when he must protect Adriana, must rescue her, for the first time he knew fear.

Lucretia glanced about the cell, which was but dimly lighted by the moonlight and the single taper which Neri had been using.

"I trust that you are caring for our guest, friend Neri," she remarked, mockingly, indicating Adriana with her hand. "You have made her comfortable I see. And lest she be thirsty, no doubt you have prepared the wine for her as I suggested?"

Juan bent his head, pretending to assent. In a few steps he was standing again before Adriana. Signing to her to bend her head still further, he murmured:

"Pretend to drink, and to faint."

She moaned. Lucretia was at his heels when he turned.

"You are more skilled than I," she remarked. "A word from you and she moans—while to me she made no response." Bitterly she faced Adriana, laughing at the girl's distress.

"Life is less sweet now, is it not, little one?" she observed. "With your father dead, your lover imprisoned in this very San Angelo that now holds you, and doomed to die within the hour, with death waiting for you in that goblet of wine that Neri has prepared—you are less happy now than when you met Don Juan in the garden by the church, are you not?"

In his surprise at learning that Lucretia knew of that meeting Juan almost betrayed himself. Adrian flinched as Lucretia taunted her, but when she spoke her voice was steady.

"May God forgive you for your sins, Lucretia Borgia," she said, quietly.

Lucretia's scornful laughter rang through the room, but in it there was a note of uneasiness.

"I am not concerned with forgiveness," she told Adriana. "—ur death interests me far more than do your prayers for the peace of my soul! Come, Neri, finish this little matter, that I may go to look on at the death of another. The execution of Don Juan should be worth watching."

THREE INDICTED FOR MURDER IN MELLETT CASE

GRAND JURY TAKES ACTION AFTER AN EIGHT-DAY PROBE

PATRICK McDERMOTT, BEN RUDNER, LOUIS MAYER SO CHARGED

Canton, O., Sept. 3.—(UP)—Three men were indicted for first degree murder here today by the Stark county grand jury following its eight-day probe of the Don R. Mellett assassination.

The accused men are: Patrick McDermott, fugitive since he disappeared from Cleveland haunts July 28 following the murder. Ben Rudner, Canton bootlegger, arrested this morning on a murder warrant.

Louis Mazer, Canton bootlegger, held in county jail at Cleveland, charged with murder and conspiracy to violate the prohibition law.

The jury handed the indictments to Judge A. W. Agler shortly after reconvening at 1 P. M., following adjournment this morning when testimony of final witnesses had been heard.

Mellett was assassinated in the back yard of his home here July 16, six weeks ago today, when he went outside to put up his automobile shortly after midnight.

The Canton Daily News campaign against bootlegging and civic vice was immediately believed the cause of the murder by investigators brought here to find the assassins. Mellett was publisher of the paper owned by former Governor James M. Cox.

A few days after the investigation started Steve Kascholk, a friend of McDermott, came forward with testimony that he and McDermott had been offered money to beat up the editor who was "spoiling the liquor business."

He involved Rudner and Mazer, later identifying them as the men with whom their bargain had been made.

Kascholk said he feared consequences of the scheme to frighten Mellett and withdrew from the plot. McDermott left Canton the day after the murder, it was learned.

The fugitive was traced to Cleveland. His description was broadcast, and reports of his arrest came from all parts of the country, but as yet, so far as investigators know, he is still at large. McDermott's home is at Nantyglo, Pa.

According to investigators, Rudner plotted Mellett's death and Mazer and McDermott fired the fatal shots. Rudner is said to be head of one of the largest bootleg rings in the country, operating between Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Canton and Detroit.

Eighty-six witnesses were heard by the grand jury before its announcement of indictments.

The jury will reconvene to name other persons believed to have had knowledge of the plot against Mellett. It will also be held in readiness for a special session to consider new evidence. Confessions involving others in the murder are predicted.

"There will be no delay in the trial of these cases," said McClintock. "I will try these cases before leaving office, which will be the first Monday in January, 1927. It will probably be 40 or 50 days before the testimony will be written up by the court stenographer as he says it will take that length of time before the testimony can be transcribed. You may know of the chances for an acquittal in Stark county, since out of more than 600 indictments returned by the grand juries of Stark county, since January 1, 1923, there has been but four acquittals.

"The present grand jury is subject to recall at any time between now and September 20, 1926. It may be recalled to take up ramifications of this case. A new grand jury comes into existence by operation of law September 20, 1926, and certain ramifications of this case may be taken up by that grand jury."

THREE INDICTED FOR MURDER IN MELLETT CASE

GRAND JURY TAKES ACTION AFTER AN EIGHT-DAY PROBE

PATRICK McDERMOTT, BEN RUDNER, LOUIS MAYER SO CHARGED

Canton, O., Sept. 3.—(UP)—Three men were indicted for first degree murder here today by the Stark county grand jury following its eight day probe of the Don R. Mellett assassination.

The accused men are:

Patrick McDermott, fugitive since he disappeared from Cleveland haunts July 28 following the murder.

Ben Rudner, Canton bootlegger, arrested this morning on a murder warrant.

Louis Mazer, Canton bootlegger, held in county jail at Cleveland, charged with murder and conspiracy to violate the prohibition law.

The jury handed the indictments to Judge A. W. Agler shortly after reconvening at 1 P. M., following adjournment this morning when testimony of final witnesses had been heard.

Mellett was assassinated in the back yard of his home here July 16, six weeks ago today, when he went outside to put up his automobile shortly after midnight.

The Canton Daily News campaign against bootlegging and civic vice was immediately believed the cause of the murder by investigators brought here to find the assassins. Mellett was publisher of the paper owned by former Governor James M. Cox.

A few days after the investigation started Steve Kascholk, a friend of McDermott, came forward with testimony that he and McDermott had been offered money to beat up the editor who was "spoiling the liquor business."

He involved Rudner and Mazer, later identifying them as the men with whom their bargain had been made.

Kascholk said he feared consequences of the scheme to frighten Mellett and withdrew from the plot. McDermott left Canton the day after the murder, it was learned.

The fugitive was traced to Cleveland. His description was broadcast and reports of his arrest came from all parts of the country, but as yet, so far as investigators know, he is still at large. McDermott's home is at Nantyglo, Pa.

According to investigators, Rudner plotted Mellett's death and Mazer and McDermott fired the fatal shots. Rudner is said to be head of one of the largest bootleg rings in the country, operating between Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Canton and Detroit.

ST. LOUIS FAVORITE IN NATIONAL LEAGUE

NEW YORK IS BETTING 8 TO 5 ON CARDINALS

ST. LOUIS GAINED DOUBLE VICTORY OVER CHICAGO CUBS YESTERDAY

NOW HAVE A TWO GAME LEAD OVER SECOND PLACE CINCINNATI REDS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, Sept. 3.—St. Louis became the favorite again in the betting here today to win the National League pennant. Betting commissioners in the financial district said they had a lot of money to lay at 8 to 5 and the price might get better.

Following a double victory over the Chicago Cubs yesterday, the Cardinals gained a two game lead over the second place Cincinnati Reds and increased their advantage over the Pittsburgh Pirates to three full games.

The Reds got a bad break by being stopped by rain after getting away in the lead against the Pirates. The scene of battle shifts again today, the Cardinals moving into Cincinnati and the Pirates invading Chicago.

The series in Cincinnati between the two leading clubs, will be one of the most important of the season. The Cardinals have not had any too much luck against the Reds this season as they have lost 11 out of 18 games but it may be a different club that Rajah Hornsby leads into the Red domain on this last trip.

Smart baseball men here, including several connected with the Giants, now believe that the Cardinals have the best chance to win the pennant and bring the world series to St. Louis.

They figure that the Cardinals not only have a good ball club but they have become inspired like the Boston Braves of 1914, who rose from the cellar in mid-July and won the pennant and the world's series in straight games from the Philadelphia Athletics.

The Cardinals are a powerful hitting team. They are getting good pitching and the fielding, especially in yesterday's games, was close to sensational.

Hornsby, who has been off his hitting game this season and who possibly will not lead the league for the first time in seven years, is hitting again and that means much for the chances of the club.

The situation remained unchanged in the American league as the leading Yankees and the contending Cleveland Indians were idle yesterday. The Yankees still have a lead of six games and are heavy favorites. The Indians have the greatest pitching staff in the American league and the Yankees have been holding their lead through the efforts of Shocker and Penneck, the only pitchers who can be counted upon.

Dutch Reuther, purchased from the Washington Senators, won the first game he pitched for the Yankees but he is not well and will not be of much service to the club during the race or in the world series. The lead of the Yankees, of course is not one that cannot be overcome but some bets are being offered in the financial district of 2 to 1 that the Yankees will play in the series. Although the playing season was shortened this year to permit an early season, it is understood that the Yankees will hold out for an opening day on October 2 so as to get in a Saturday and a Sunday in the big stadium. The American league club, according to the rules, opens the series this year.

M. E. CHURCH KITTENBALL 19, N. P. STORE 5

The M. E. church kittenball team defeated the N. P. Store Room team to the tune of 19-5 in a game Wednesday night.

The same teams will play a return game Tuesday at 6:15 p. m. at the Koering grounds.

For the M. E. team, Erickson, Anderson, Orth, Thompson, Bredenberg, Fitzsimmons, Peterson, Anderson, and Werner starred, and for the N. P. team Gunlin George, Holland, Goltz, Halley, Crust, Turner, Brandt, Meifert and McGarry played a stellar game.

Werner pitching for the Methodist allowed but five hits and George Senn thrilled the fans with a home run with all bases full. Russell Fitzsimmons also hit a timely two bagger while the bases were full. Other features of the game was the catching of Anderson and Nelson.

The M. E. team will accept the challenge of any other team in the city and are asked to come in touch with Ben Anderson of the John M. Bye Clothing Co., or C. J. Werner of the J. C. Penney Co.

N. P. CITY TEAM LOSES TO ELY, DEFEATS CROSBY

GAME AT ELY SUNDAY WENT TO NORTH CITY BY 7 TO 1 SCORE

TEAM COMES BACK TUESDAY TO DOWN RANGE TEAM AT COUNTY FAIR

The Brainerd N. P. team broke even in their games the early part of this week, when they lost a game to Ely on Sunday, but won from Crosby at the county fair on Tuesday. The Ely game score was 7 to 1, the heavy score not indicating the closeness of the battle, which was a 1 to 1 tie until the seventh inning. At Pequot the score was 5 to 3, with Weigle pitching good ball except for a let-down in the second inning, when several errors combined to give Crosby all their scores.

Brainerd was first to score at Ely, when Shello singled in the second canto with one down. Kaufman whiffed, but Schwindeman sent Shello to second with a single to left, and Shello scored on Weigle's hit through short. Ely tied the count in their half of the third, when Muscat singled, stole second and scored when Schwindeman's low throw to catch him went through Peterson.

There was no more scoring until the last of the seventh, when the crowd got up and stretched their home boys to victory. Bouska got a life on Ware's error. Muscat singled to center. Linbeck fled out to center, Hill singled and Hoefler followed suit with a drive that sent Muscat and Hill pounding the plate. Chin beat out a bunt, and Lawrence's fielders' choice scored Hoefler. Cantin fled out to Peterson to end the rally, but only for a moment, because in the next time at bat Ely continued on for three more counts.

Anthony singled, Bouska hit and Muscat was safe on a fielder's choice. Linbeck hit to Hanson, who threw to the plate to catch Anthony, but Schwindeman let the ball get away, and two runners scored. Muscat later scored on a passed ball.

Weigle bested Richmond in a pitcher's battle at the county fair at Pequot Tuesday when he won by 3 to 5 score. The game was slow, and marred by several misplays. Outside of the second inning, however, Weigle had his opponents eating out of his hand.

Shello was the hitting star, with three hits, two of them doubles. Peterson hit a brace of doubles, and Hanson connected for a single and a triple. Weigle allowed but four hits, and walked one man. It was nobody's game until the seventh, when the railroaders bunched their blows for three runs, making the game sure.

Crosby scored three times in the second, Englehart starting with being hit by a pitched ball. Bungar fled out to Kaufman and Crosby fanned. Mira walked and Kraul was safe on Weigle's error. Two runners scored when Kaufman dropped Richmond's fly, and Kraul scored a moment later when Weigle muffed Arton's grounder.

In their half of the third, Brainerd scored twice. Uddenberg walked and scored on Peterson's double down the foul line, and Peterson scored on Arton's error of Norman's grounder. In the seventh, Peterson doubled to start with, stole third, and was caught at the plate trying to score on Norman's out at first base. Ware walked and scored on Hanson's triple to center. The Mudhens took both games a doubleheader from the Indians 4 to 2 and 2 to 1. The second game went 14 innings and was a pitching duel between Maun and Wisner.

After the Kaws had taken the first game of a scheduled doubleheader from the Millers, 6 to 2, rain prevented the second game.

LULL EXISTS AT PHILADELPHIA FOR THE PRESENT

VANGUARD OF FIGHT FANS, OFFICIALS, CONTRACTORS TO COME IN 10 DAYS

TICKET SELLING IS CONTINUING AT A LEISURELY GAIT

Philadelphia, Sept. 3.—(UP)—This city today was experiencing the lull that comes before the storm, the storm being due in about 10 days, when the vanguard of fight fans, officials, contractors and others come in preparation for the Dempsey-Tunney fight September 23 in the Sesqui-Centennial stadium.

Ticket selling continued at a leisurely rate. Although ring seats were sold out there were plenty of other seats left for those who want them 50 or 60 rows back. No large crowds thronged the fight headquarters as when Tex Rickard first established himself here.

Railroads prepared for a huge influx of visitors, the greatest number being expected from New York City. The Pennsylvania railroad has announced that it will run 10 or 12 special trains from that city alone. Ticket speculators have not made their appearance to any alarming degree.

SEEK TO KEEP TUNNEY FROM OVER TRAINING

Stroudsburg, Pa., Sept. 3.—Billy Gibson, manager, and Louis Fink, trainer, have no intention of sending their protege, Gene Tunney, into the ring with Dempsey overtrained. At present the danger of that seems to be worrying the two more than anything else concerned with the activities of the challenger. Yesterday the big heavyweight spent the day resting.

He has no intention of working out today. If he dons the gloves or does a bit of roadwork or bag punching it will be for photographers only.

DEMPSEY NOW TIPS SCALES AT 198 POUNDS

Atlantic City, Sept. 3.—Jack Dempsey's activities today were dependent upon the weather. If it rains, he intends to forsake his sparring rounds and take a day's respite from his training schedule.

Weighed yesterday, the champion tipped the scales at 198 pounds and made known his hope to keep at that weight. Evidently both he and his aides believe he can well afford to solidify his present weight for the fight with Tunney.

Dempsey went through five rounds with his sparring partners yesterday, five none too strenuous rounds.

Richardson Signs With Chicago Bulls

Kansas City, Mo.—Doss Richardson, captain of the University of Missouri track team and former star football player there, has signed with the Chicago Bulls, a professional team. Richardson will leave here Monday for Chicago. It was understood Sam Whiteman, last year's football captain at the university also has been offered a contract.

CARDINALS JUST

OOZE CONFIDENCE; PLAY THE REDS

Cincinnati, Sept. 3.—(UP)—Leading the pack in the National league pennant race by two full games, the St. Louis Cardinals, oozing confidence and assurance, invaded Cincinnati today for the opener of a three game series.

A clean sweep would set the Cardinals on an easy road to the bunting. Carl Mays, submarine artist, and Jess Haines, Hornsby's big right-hander, who has proved a considerable puzzle to the Reds on several occasions in the past, were picked to do the hurling.

A wild throw in the first gave the Reds two runs. Rousch got credit for a single when Theynow slipped fielding his grounder; Walker walked and was forced by Pipp. On a double steal Rousch was apparently out at the plate, but Bell hit him with the ball, which bounced to the field boxes, Rousch and Pipp scoring.

O'Farrell's triple helped to tie the score in the second inning. He scored Hafey, who had singled, and then came home when Theynow fled to Christensen.

ST. LOUIS FAVORITE IN NATIONAL LEAGUE

NEW YORK IS BETTING 8 TO 5 ON CARDINALS

ST. LOUIS GAINED DOUBLE VICTORY OVER CHICAGO CUBS YESTERDAY

NOW HAVE A TWO GAME LEAD OVER SECOND PLACE CINCINNATI REDS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, Sept. 3.—St. Louis became the favorite again in the betting here today to win the National League pennant. Betting commissions in the financial district said they had a lot of money to lay at 8 to 5 and the price might get better.

Following a double victory over the Chicago Cubs yesterday, the Cardinals gained a two game lead over the second place Cincinnati Reds and increased their advantage over the Pittsburgh Pirates to three full games.

The Reds got a bad break by being stopped by rain after getting away in the lead against the Pirates.

The scene of battle shifts again today, the Cardinals moving into Cincinnati and the Pirates invading Chicago.

The series in Cincinnati between the two leading clubs, will be one of the most important of the season. The Cardinals have not had any too much luck against the Reds this season as they have lost 11 out of 18 games but it may be a different club that Rajah Hornsby leads into the Red domain on this last trip.

Smart baseball men here, including several connected with the Giants, now believe that the Cardinals have the best chance to win the pennant and bring the world series to St. Louis.

They figure that the Cardinals not only have a good ball club but they have become inspired like the Boston Braves of 1914, who rose from the cellar in mid-July and won the pennant and the world's series in straight games from the Philadelphia Athletics.

The Cardinals are a powerful hitting team. They are getting good pitching and the fielding, especially in yesterday's games, was close to sensational.

Hornsby, who has been off his hitting game this season and who possibly will not lead the league for the first time in seven years, is hitting again and that means much for the chances of the club.

The situation remained unchanged in the American league as the leading Yankees and the contending Cleveland Indians were idle yesterday. The Yankees still have a lead of six games and are heavy favorites. The Indians have the greatest pitching staff in the American league and the Yankees have been holding their lead through the efforts of Shocker and Penneck, the only pitchers who can be counted upon.

Dutch Reuther, purchased from the Washington Senators, won the first game he pitched for the Yankees but he is not well and will not be of much service to the club during the race or in the world series.

The lead of the Yankees, of course is not one that cannot be overcome but some bets are being offered in the financial district of 2 to 1 that the Yankees will play in the series. Although the playing season was shortened this year to permit an early season, it is understood that the Yankees will hold out for an opening day on October 2 so as to get in a Saturday and a Sunday in the big stadium. The American league club, according to the rules, opens the series this year.

M. E. CHURCH KITTENBALL 19, N. P. STORE 5

The M. E. church kittenball team defeated the N. P. Store Room team to the tune of 19-5 in a game Wednesday night.

The same teams will play a return game Tuesday at 6:15 p. m. at the Koering grounds.

For the M. E. team, Erickson, Anderson, Orth, Thompson, Bredenberg, Fitzsimmons, Peterson, Anderson, and Werner starred, and for the N. P. team Gunlin George, Holland, Goltz, Halley, Crust, Turner, Brandt, Meifert and McGarry played a stellar game.

Werner pitching for the Methodist allowed out five hits and George Senn thrilled the fans with a home run with all bases full. Russell Fitzsimmons also hit a timely two bagger while the bases were full. Other features of the game was the catching of Anderson and Nelson.

The M. E. team will accept the challenge of any other team in the city and are asked to come in touch with Ben Anderson of the John M. Bye Clothing Co., or C. J. Werner of the J. C. Penney Co.

LULL EXISTS AT PHILADELPHIA FOR THE PRESENT

VANGUARD OF FIGHT FANS, OFFICIALS, CONTRACTORS TO COME IN 10 DAYS

TICKET SELLING IS CONTINUING AT A LEISURELY GAIT

Philadelphia, Sept. 3.—(UP)—This city today was experiencing the lull that comes before the storm, the storm being due in about 10 days, when the vanguard of fight fans, officials, contractors and others come in preparation for the Dempsey-Tunney fight September 23 in the Sesqui-Centennial stadium.

Ticket selling continued at a leisurely rate. Although ring seats were sold out there were plenty of other seats left for those who want them 50 or 60 rows back. No large crowds thronged the fight headquarters as when Tex Rickard first established himself here.

Railroads prepared for a huge influx of visitors, the greatest number being expected from New York City. The Pennsylvania railroad has announced that it will run 10 or 12 special trains from that city alone. Ticket speculators have not made their appearance to any alarming degree.

SEEK TO KEEP TUNNEY FROM OVER TRAINING

Stroudsburg, Pa., Sept. 3.—Billy Gibson, manager, and Louis Fink, trainer, have no intention of sending their protegee, Gene Tunney, into the ring with Dempsey overtrained.

At present the danger of that seems to be worrying the two more than anything else concerned with the activities of the challenger. Yesterday the big heavyweight spent the day resting.

He has no intention of working out today. If he dons the gloves or does a bit of roadwork or bag punching it will be for photographers only.

DEMPSEY NOW TIPS SCALES AT 198 POUNDS

Atlantic City, Sept. 3.—Jack Dempsey's activities today were dependent upon the weather. If it rains, he intends to forsake his sparring rounds and take a day's respite from his training schedule.

Weighed yesterday, the champion tipped the scales at 198 pounds and made known his hope to keep at that weight. Evidently both he and his aides believe he can well afford to solidify his present weight for the fight with Tunney.

Dempsey went through five rounds with his sparring partners yesterday, five none too strenuous rounds.

Richardson Signs With Chicago Bulls

Kansas City, Mo.—Doss Richardson, captain of the University of Missouri track team and former star football player there, has signed with the Chicago Bulls, a professional team. Richardson will leave here Monday for Chicago. It was understood Sam Whiteman, last year's football captain at the university also has been offered a contract.

CARDINALS JUST OOOO CONFIDENCE; PLAY THE REDS

Cincinnati, Sept. 3.—(UP)—Leading the pack in the National league pennant race by two full games, the St. Louis Cardinals, oozing confidence and assurance, invaded Cincinnati today for the opener of a three game series.

A clean sweep would set the Cardinals on an easy road to the bunting. Carl Mays, submarine artist, and Jess Haines, Hornsby's big right-hander, who has proved a considerable puzzle to the Reds on several occasions in the past, were picked to do the hurling.

A wild throw in the first gave the Reds two runs. Rousch got credit for a single when Theynow slipped fielding his grounder; Walker walked and was forced by Pipp. On a double steal Rousch was apparently out at the plate, but Bell hit him with the ball, which bounced to the field boxes, Rousch and Pipp scoring.

O'Farrell's triple helped to tie the score in the second inning. He scored Hafey, who had singled, and then came home when Theynow flied to Christensen.

W. M. Murphy, County Highway Engineer Made 180 Mile Tour Yesterday

ON MAINTENANCE WORK

Lake Levels Boosted Three or Four Inches, Stated Mr. Murphy

Walter M. Murphy, county highway engineer who yesterday made a 180 mile automobile tour over State Aid roads No. 3, 4, and 5 in the county as well as various White Line roads checking up on the maintenance, reported this morning that the heavy rains of yesterday had done comparatively little damage to the roads in the way of washouts.

All roads are being repaired today and with the clearing of the weather, Mr. Murphy said, the roads will all be in good shape for travel over the week end.

"The rains have done much good in the boosting of the water levels in the lakes," Mr. Murphy stated, "the rains have boosted the lake levels three or four inches on the different lakes."

The recent report of the State Aid roads census taken by the County Highway Department sent to the State Highway Department received the following response from C. S. Motl, assistant maintenance engineer of the State Highway Department who was formerly county highway engineer of Crow Wing county:

"We are pleased to receive your letter and attached map, showing the results of your traffic census taken on Aug. 8 and 9.

FAREWELL DANCE FOR MULLIGAN

U. C. T. and Green Lantern Will Stage Dance Party Thursday Evening, Sept. 3, at Lum Park

MULLIGAN'S BAND TO PLAY

Orchestra Composed of Best Dance Musicians in the Northwest

A farewell dance for Norvy Mulligan and his Green Jackets has been jointly arranged by the U. C. T. and "The Green Lantern" of Bay Lake to be held at Lum Park on Thursday, Sept. 9.

This is not a regular scheduled U. C. T. dance but is being held only after repeated requests from friends of Norvy Mulligan and the U. C. T. and is to be held at Lum Park owing to it being the largest pavilion in this vicinity. A huge crowd is expected to give him a royal send off.

For this occasion Norvy Mulligan is bringing his entire Hotel Nicolet orchestra of nine musicians. This orchestra has the reputation of being the hottest band this side of Dixie and the personnel is as follows: Mel Wright, banjo, guitar and entertainer; Dwight Hammond, drums, who was with the Glacier Park hotel orchestra before joining Norvy Mulligan's orchestra; Jack Daniels, saxophone and clarinet who was a member of the Glacier Park hotel orchestra before joining Norvy Mulligan's orchestra; Kenneth Nelson, saxophone and clarinet formerly a member of Northwall's Jazzland band of Omaha, the Louisiana Ragadors of the University of Nebraska, and the Southern Rag-A-Jabb band which made a tour of Europe, and during the past summer was director of the Breezy Point Lodge orchestra, and is well known to the people of Brainerd; Gordie Bonen, saxophone and clarinet, formerly with Sammy Heiman's orchestra; Bill Roth, trombone, a feature man at the present with Arnold Frank's orchestra at the Casino in Hotel St. Paul; Ted Berman, sousaphone, for many years with the Sells-Floto circus, and Norvy Mulligan, piano and entertainer feature man with George Osborne at the Radisson Flame Room.

The Hotel Nicolet orchestra were the most popular orchestra to listen to of WCCO and after moving to the Flame Room were the official orchestra of WAMD. This orchestra is the same with two exceptions as the one that played last season at the Flame Room under the direction of George Osborne and might be rightly called George Osborne's orchestra. There seems to be a great demand for an orchestra that is hot enough to burn 'em up and Mulligan promises that the dancers of Brainerd and vicinity have yet to hear as hot a band as this and only once in a great while it is possible to secure an orchestra of such star musicians. The public is welcome and the same management will be in charge. Ladies without an escort and children will not be admitted.

Orchestra Composed of Best Dance Musicians in the Northwest

A farewell dance for Norvy Mulligan and his Green Jackets has been jointly arranged by the U. C. T. and "The Green Lantern" of Bay Lake to be held at Lum Park on Thursday, Sept. 9.

This is not a regular scheduled U. C. T. dance but is being held only after repeated requests from friends of Norvy Mulligan and the U. C. T. and is to be held at Lum Park owing to it being the largest pavilion in this vicinity. A huge crowd is expected to give him a royal send off.

For this occasion Norvy Mulligan is bringing his entire Hotel Nicolet orchestra of nine musicians. This orchestra has the reputation of being the hottest band this side of Dixie and the personnel is as follows: Mel Wright, banjo, guitar and entertainer; Dwight Hammond, drums, who was with the Glacier Park hotel orchestra before joining Norvy Mulligan's orchestra; Jack Daniels, saxophone and clarinet who was a member of the Glacier Park hotel orchestra before joining Norvy Mulligan's orchestra; Kenneth Nelson, saxophone and clarinet formerly a member of Northwall's Jazzland band of Omaha, the Louisiana Ragadors of the University of Nebraska, and the Southern Rag-A-Jabb band which made a tour of Europe, and during the past summer was director of the Breezy Point Lodge orchestra, and is well known to the people of Brainerd; Gordie Bonen, saxophone and clarinet, formerly with Sammy Heiman's orchestra; Bill Roth, trombone, a feature man at the present with Arnold Frank's orchestra at the Casino in Hotel St. Paul; Ted Beriman, sousophone, for many years with the Sells-Floto circus, and Norvy Mulligan, piano and entertainer feature man with George Osborne at the Radisson Flame Room.

The Hotel Nicolet orchestra were the most popular orchestra to listeners of WCCO and after moving to the Flame Room were the official orchestra of WAMD. This orchestra is the same with two exceptions as the one that played last season at the Flame Room under the direction of George Osborne and might be rightly called George Osborne's orchestra. There seems to be a great demand for an orchestra that is hot enough to burn 'em up and Mulligan promises that the dancers of Brainerd and vicinity have yet to hear as hot a band as this and only once in a great while is it possible to secure an orchestra of such star musicians. The public is welcome and the same management will be in charge. Ladies without an escort and children will not be admitted.

CLAIM 2 AVIATORS REPORTED MISSING

FLYING FROM PITTSBURGH TO PHILADELPHIA FOR NATIONAL AIR RACES

Philadelphia, Sept. 3.—(UP)—No word has been received here today of two aviators, missing since yesterday, while flying from Pittsburgh to Philadelphia for the national air races tomorrow.

The flyers, Lloyd Spearman and George Weis, left Pittsburgh Wednesday in single seater planes and were expected here yesterday.

Rain and foggy weather was reported throughout the state and it was feared that the aviators were forced down in the same territory in which Lieutenant Cyrus Bettis met his fate a week ago.

Walter Beech, captain of the travel air team which is to compete in the races, left the field here late yesterday in a heavy rain to search for the flyers. More planes were to set out from here today.

Y. M. C. A. POUNDS TRACY FROM BOX TO BEAT BACKUS

SCORE 9 RUNS IN WILD SIXTH
INNING AT COUNTY FAIR
GAME

BACKUS MEN MAKE THREE HOME
RUNS BUT CANNOT BREAK
INTO VICTORY

In a wild, weird game marked by good playing at times, and amateurish kid-playing at other times, the Y. M. C. A. downed the touted Backus nine at the county fair Wednesday, pounding their ace, Tracy, from the mound in the sixth with a barrage of hits and fast base running, and came home with a 13 to 8 win safely ensconced in their hip pockets.

On the short end of a 4 to 9 count at their half of the fourth inning, the Y. stepped out to score one run in that frame, and added three more in the fifth. To make it more certain they chased in 9 more in the sixth, then settled down for the rest of the game to play a defensive battle.

Sheffo was safe on a third base error in the fourth, the first of several misplays by that hot corner gentleman, whose name was Palmer. He, meaning Sheffo, dented the plate for the first run when Hanson leaped on one of Tracy's shots to send it out of the lot, but it passed a part of the fence inside the 235 foot mark and he received only two bases for the effort.

In the next inning Bernard started by singling, Thompson followed suit, sending Bernard to third. Thompson went to second, but Bernard was caught at third on a late return to that bag. Sandgren hit, scoring Thompson, Dillan singled to center, putting Sandgren on second. Both advanced a base on a wild throw to third, and scored on Bollen's single through second base.

Peterson started the merry-go-round in the sixth by taking first on a hit in front of the plate, which Tracy fielded with a wild throw to first. Engbretson was safe on Palmer's error, and Bollens, who ran for Peterson, went to second. Bernard hit to short, after Engbretson and Bollens had advanced on a wild pitch, and when the short stop elected to throw home to catch Engbretson, all hands were safe. He repeated his error of judgment later in the same inning. Thompson was safe when Palmer again muffed a grounder, and Sandgren singled, scoring two. Dillan forced Sandgren at second, and Bollens, Sheffo, Hanson and Peterson were all safe on hits or errors, all scoring in time. About this time Tracy decided he had had enough and retired in favor of Richmond.

The Backus runs? Oh, yes, a few trickled in here and there, mostly on long hits at intervals. Sawyer brought in the first two when his line drive went through the fence for a home run, LaVoie scoring ahead of him, this occurring in the third inning. Jones and S. Palmer walked, in the same inning, and came home on H. Palmer's triple to deep center. Two more came in the seventh, with Sawyer sending another fly through the fence, and Jones pounding a banner over the fence for home runs. In the 8th and 9th innings, Backus scored again, once in each inning, but it was so dark no one could see how.

The game was delayed an hour in the beginning, when Dr. Bywater made his inaugural address starting his presidential campaign, and the game again was halted for a half hour in the seventh inning while a balloon ascension took place. When the game was resumed, it was so dark, and the players were so cold, that the last two innings were uninteresting.

PIRATES TO PLAY THE CUBS TODAY; RAIN THREATENS

Chicago, Sept. 3.—(UP)—The skies were cloudy and there was a constant threat of rain as the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Chicago Cubs met here this afternoon. After the record breaking week-day crowd when the St. Louis Cardinals played here yesterday, today's attendance appeared somewhat light. The day was cool.

Carmon Hill, pitcher recently purchased from Indianapolis, made his first appearance on the mound for the Pirates while Kaufman was the Chicago hurler.

In the fourth Cuyler grounded towards first and was safe when Grimm made a bad throw. He went to second on an infield play and when Rhyne singled Cuyler came home for the first run of the game. Rice's single was the first hit obtained off Kaufman.

STATE FAIR BILL FULL OF THRILLS

World's Greatest Features Engaged for World's Greatest Fair, Sept. 4 to 11.

THE Fair of a Thousand Thrills. These six words summarize the gigantic entertainment program to be presented by the Minnesota State Fair and North-west Dairy Exposition, Twin Cities, September 4 to 11.

Action, speed and thrills—and maybe spills—galore will be furnished by this stupendous program. Circus and hippodrome attractions recruited from all parts of the old and new world, including Japan, China, Russia, Arabia, Britain, Argentina and America, will pass in kaleidoscopic review.

FLYING: In a big day and evening show, Miss Gladys Roy, new Queen of the Air, from California, will essay feats never attempted by woman or man. In her feature act she walks blindfolded on the wings of her plane, her head in a great black sack, padlocked at the neck. She will land on the track in front of the grandstand, hanging from the running gear of her ship.

CIRCUS ACTS: Thirteen big headliners, featuring the world's greatest gymnasts, tumblers, acrobats, aerialists, contortionists, jugglers, trapezists and animal trainers will make up the vaudeville program.

HORSE RACING: More than 250 of the leading pacers, trotters and runners of the country will be seen in action in the harness and running horse events on the program. Four days of horse racing are scheduled.

Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, September 6, 7, 9 and 10 respectively, being given over to the horses. Purses totaling $24,000.00 with entry money to be added, are offered.

AUTO RACING: Two dozen speed demons, representing the cream of the dirt track auto racing world, will shake dice with death in the three big racing matinees to be staged the opening and closing Saturday afternoons and Wednesday, Sept. 8.

BAND MUSIC: Sixteen bands, orchestras and drum corps have been engaged for the musical program. The big feature will be Roy D. Smith's Royal Scotch Highlanders, of St. Petersburg, Fla., one of the best known bands in the world.

FIREWORKS: "1776," the most elaborate and stupendous fireworks spectacle ever attempted, will vividly portray in pageantry and fire many of the historical scenes connected with the founding of our Republic. "1776" will be an exact reproduction of the fireworks feature presented at the Sesqui-centennial Exposition in Philadelphia this summer, commemorating the 150th anniversary of the birth of our Nation.

MIDWAY: RUBIN and CHERRY, one of the four leading amusement organizations of the country, will make their first appearance on the fair's midway. Thirty big, new attractions and up-to-date rides will be found on "Pleasure Row."

STOCKS IN STRONG TONE

New York, Sept. 3.—(UP)—Stocks displayed a surprising degree of animation today, taking into consideration the opinion prevailing in trading circles that little activity was likely to develop on the eve of a holiday. The general list took on a better complexion which was well maintained during the balance of the session. People with important stock holdings appeared to be adding to their line of high grade industrials and rails judging from the impressive strength displayed by issues like New York Central, C. & O., Southern, Pennsylvania,

B. & O., General Motors, DuPont and United States Steel.
The market closed higher.

Y. M. C. A. POUNDS TRACY FROM BOX TO BEAT BACKUS

SCORE 9 RUNS IN WILD SIXTH INNING AT COUNTY FAIR GAME

BACKUS MEN MAKE THREE HOME RUNS BUT CANNOT BREAK INTO VICTORY

In a wild, weird game marked by good playing at times, and amateurish kid-playing at other times, the Y. M. C. A. downed the touted Backus nine at the county fair Wednesday, pounding their ace, Tracy, from the mound in the sixth with a barrage of hits and fast base running, and came home with a 13 to 9 win safely ensconced in their hip pockets.

On the short end of a 4 to 0 count at their half of the fourth inning, the Y. stepped out to score one run in that frame, and added three more in the fifth. To make it more certain they chased in 9 more in the sixth, then settled down for the rest of the game to play a defensive battle.

Sheffo was safe on a third base error in the fourth, the first of several misplays by that hot corner gentleman, whose name was Palmer. He, meaning Sheffo, dented the plate for the first run when Hanson leaned on one of Tracy's shoots to send it out of the lot, but it passed a part of the fence inside the 235 foot mark and he received only two bases for the effort.

In the next inning Bernard started by singling, Thompson followed suit, sending Bernard to third. Thompson went to second, but Bernard was caught at third on a late return to that bag. Sandgren hit, scoring Thompson, Dillan singled to centre, putting Sandgren on second. Both advanced a base on a wild throw to third, and scored on Bollen's single through second base.

Peterson started the merry-go-round in the sixth by taking first on a hit in front of the plate, which Tracy fielded with a wild throw to first. Engbretson was safe on Palmer's error, and Bollens, who ran for Peterson, went to second. Bernard hit to short, after Engbretson and Bollens had advanced on a wild pitch, and when the short stop elected to throw home to catch Engbretson, all hands were safe. He repeated his error of judgment later in the same inning. Thompson was safe when Palmer again muffed a grounder, and Sandgren singled, scoring two. Dillan forced Sandgren at second, and Bollens, Sheffo, Hanson and Peterson were all safe on hits or errors, all scoring in time. About this time Tracy decided he had had enough and retired in favor of Richmond.

The Backus runs? Oh, yes, a few trickled in here and there, mostly on long hits at intervals. Sawyer brought in the first two when his line drive went through the fence for a home run, LaVoie scoring ahead of him, this occurring in the third inning. Jones and S. Palmer walked, in the same inning, and came home on H. Palmer's triple to deep center. Two more came in the seventh, with Sawyer sending another fly through the fence, and Jones pounding a banner over the fence for home runs. In the 8th and 9th innings, Backus scored again, once in each inning, but it was so dark no one could see how.

The game was delayed an hour in the beginning, when Dr. Bywater made his inaugural address starting his presidential campaign, and the game again was halted for a half hour in the seventh inning while a balloon ascension took place. When the game was resumed, it was so dark, and the players were so cold, that the last two innings were uninteresting.

PIRATES TO PLAY THE CUBS TODAY; RAIN THREATENS

Chicago, Sept. 3.—(UP)—The skies were cloudy and there was a constant threat of rain as the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Chicago Cubs met here this afternoon. After the record breaking week-day crowd when the St. Louis Cardinals played here yesterday, today's attendance appeared somewhat light. The day was cool.

Carmon Hill, pitcher recently purchased from Indianapolis, made his first appearance on the mound for the Pirates while Kaufman was the Chicago hurler.

In the fourth Cuyler grounded towards first and was safe when Grimm made a bad throw. He went to second on an infield play and when Rhyme singled Cuyler came home for the first run of the game. Rice's single was the first hit obtained off Kaufman.

STATE FAIR BILL FULL OF THRILLS

World's Greatest Features Engaged for World's Greatest Fair, Sept. 4 to 11.

HE Fair of a Thousand Thrills. These six words summarize the gigantic entertainment program to be presented by the Minnesota State Fair and North-west Dairy Exposition, Twin Cities, September 4 to 11.

Action, speed and thrills—and maybe spills—galore will be furnished by this stupendous program. Circus and hippodrome attractions recruited from all parts of the old and new world, including Japan, China, Russia, Arabia, Britain, Argentina and America, will pass in kaleidoscopic review.

FLYING: In a big day and evening show, Miss Gladys Roy, new Queen of the Air, from California, will essay feats never attempted by woman or man. In her feature act she walks blindfolded on the wings of her plane, her head in a great black sack, padlocked at the neck. She will land on the track in front of the grandstand, hanging from the running gear of her ship.

CIRCUS ACTS: Thirteen big headliners, featuring the world's greatest gymnasts, tumblers, acrobats, aerialists, contortionists, jugglers, trapezists and animal trainers will make up the vaudeville program.

HORSE RACING: More than 250 of the leading pacers, trotters and runners of the country will be seen in action in the harness and running horse events on the program. Four days of horse racing are scheduled, Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, September 6, 7, 9 and 10 respectively, being given over to the horses. Purses totaling $24,000.00 with entry money to be added, are offered.

AUTO RACING: Two dozen speed demons, representing the cream of the dirt track auto racing world, will shake dice with death in the three big racing matinees to be staged the opening and closing Saturday afternoons and Wednesday, Sept. 8.

BAND MUSIC: Sixteen bands, orchestras and drum corps have been engaged for the musical program. The big feature will be Roy D. Smith's Royal Scotch Highlanders, of St. Petersburg, Fla., one of the best known bands in the world.

FIREWORKS: "1776," the most elaborate and stupendous fireworks spectacle ever attempted, will vividly portray in pageantry and fire many of the historical scenes connected with the founding of our Republic. "1776" will be an exact reproduction of the fireworks feature presented at the Sesqui-centennial Exposition in Philadelphia this summer, commemorating the 150th anniversary of the birth of Our Nation.

MIDWAY: RUBIN and CHERRY, one of the four leading amusement organizations of the country, will make their first appearance on the fair's midway. Thirty big, new attractions and up-to-date rides will be found on "Pleasure Row."

STOCKS IN STRONG TONE

New York, Sept. 3.—(UP)—Stocks displayed a surprising degree of animation today, taking into consideration the opinion prevailing in trading circles that little activity was likely to develop on the eve of a holiday. The general list took on a better complexion which was well maintained during the balance of the session. People with important stock holdings appeared to be adding to their line of high grade industrials and rails judging from the impressive strength displayed by issues like New York Central, C. & O., Southern, Pennsylvania,

B. & O. General Motors, DuPont and United States Steel.

The market closed higher.
